FUNERAL HOME ON WEST AVE. ORDERED MOVED

State Supreme Court Sustains Judge Wickham's Decision Declaring Miller Establishment a Nuisance

WARD LEGAL FIGHT ENDS IN VICTORY FOR THE PLAINTIFFS

Residents of Exclusive Residential Street Objected to Undertaking Rooms Near Home

A. J. MILLER must remove his funeral home, in the old Platz home, 134 West avenue south, according to the judgment of Judge James Wickham, whose decision in the now famous suit brought by West avenue residents to oust the funeral home has been sustained by the state supreme court, according to word received from Madison Tuesday morning.

This case establishes a precedent in Wisconsin, as no suit just like it has ever been brought in the circuit court and carried to the supreme court.

The plaintiffs in the action were Daniel Cunningham, Thomas Woolley, Miss Gile Scott, Chloé Hyde, Fred F. Wallace, Bertha Jehlen, Robert Campbell and Anna P. Sutor. The defendants were A. J. Miller, and his wife, George H. Gordon, Law & Gordon, and Winter, Morris, Esch & Hames were attorneys for the plaintiffs, and John F. Doherty and Higbee & Swennes were attorneys for the defendants. The case lasted a week last September in circuit court and was one of the hardest fought legal battles in the history of the local courts.

Judge James Wickham of Eau Claire was the trial judge, having been called in by Judge Higbee, following filing of affidavit of prejudice.

In Judge Wickham's decision, filed September 18, last, the Miller funeral home was declared to be a nuisance and was ordered abated within 20 days of the filing of the decision. A stay in execution was granted pending appeal to the supreme court taken by Messrs. Doherty and Higbee.

BLAINE CHARGES 5 KENOSHA FIRMS WITH TAX FRAUDS

One Corporation Alone Has Withheld Nearly Quarter Million in Taxes

SAYS UNPAID TAXES WOULD MEET CITY BILLS FOR YEARS

Small Taxpayer Bearing Unfair Burden of Taxation

KENOSHA, Wis.—Gov. J. J. Blaine in a campaign address here Monday night reasserted his charge that large Wisconsin corporations were withholding millions in taxes from the public treasury with a resultant increased burden on the small taxpayer.

In the course of his address Governor Blaine carried out for the first time his promise to reveal the names of corporations which the tax commission has found to have failed to pay their complete income tax. He mentioned five Kenosha concerns, one of them a nationally known motor company that the governor said "withheld in three years over $245,000."

"There is no veil of secrecy, no hiding of the assessment returns of the property taxpayers of this state," said Governor Blaine. "Their returns, showing the assessment of real and personal property, are filed with the town, city and village clerks and are open for inspection."

"The state has not been required to hire any auditors to audit their returns, for the very simple reason that there is no necessity for it. The property taxpayers have not withheld one dollar in taxes. They have borne a disproportionate share of the burdens of taxation, as President Harrison said, by reason of certain corporations having withheld millions of dollars from the state, county, town and village treasuries."

Names Kenosha Concerns

"Take, for example, the city of Kenosha, I will give you a list of five corporations and the amounts they have withheld for a period of three years, namely:

"The Nash Motor company withheld from the soldiers' bonus funds $89,200, a normal income tax in the sum of over $148,000, and also from the teachers' retirement fund several thousand dollars, making a total that the one company alone withheld in three years of over $245,000."

"The F. L. Wells company withheld from the soldiers' bonus funds over $849, and withheld a normal tax of $791, or a total exceeding $1,650."

"The Iserman Brothers company withheld from the soldiers' bonus funds $1,286, and withheld a normal income tax of $4,049.04, making a total of $5,335.04."

"The MacWharty company withheld from the soldiers' bonus funds $8,678.16 and withheld from the normal tax $20,192.58, or a total of $28,870.74."

"The Borden Store company withheld from the soldiers' bonus funds $468.22, and withheld a normal income tax of $390.18, or a total of $858.40."

Of the normal tax withheld 10 per cent goes to the state, 20 per cent to the county, and 70 per cent to the city.

Would Have Paid City Expense

"The amount withheld from the city would have paid all the expenses of the general government of the city of Kenosha for two and one-half years; it would have paid its expenditures for highways and bridges for one year, with a surplus of $25,000. The amount withheld would have paid all the public charities in this city for over five years."

In fact, the amount withheld is one-sixth of the entire total city tax for the year 1920.

"These amounts we have already collected, but there are other corporations in this city that have withheld large amounts which have not been audited. In fact, there are 3,000 corporations in the state which, when audited, will be required to pay taxes."

Auditing the income tax returns and the books is a slow process. We must pursue this course until all of these corporations have been compelled to pay. We should also make it impossible in the future for this sort of thing again to occur, and publicity is the best cure and proper remedy for the prevention of fraud and tax-dodging."

Attacks the Press

The governor asserted that the local Kenosha paper "failed to come to the assistance of the public officials in the crisis, and," he declared, "it has suppressed all this information."

"Advertising is legitimate," the governor said, speaking generally of newspapers, "but the newspaper that takes advertising and then remains silent when it ought to speak has sold out, and the public is helpless."

This has been evident during the recent strike of railroad employees. The railroad companies have large

Insurgents Wrecking Railway Lines in Order to Halt Advance of Free Staters

SEEK TO DRIVE IRREGULARS INTO SOUTH OF IRELAND

Hope to Deal With Remaining Troops in One Operation

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—Reports of the wrecking of railway lines by the Irish insurgents indicate that the republicans' present plan of campaign aims at preventing the movement of Free State troops.

Opinion is expressed that the provisional government will seek to drive the irregulars into the southwest corner of the island in the hope of dealing with them in a single operation instead of being compelled to scatter its forces over a large part of the country.

The republicans are stated to be strengthening themselves in the southwest where they have mined the roads and cut the railroads communicating with Dublin so that at present it is impossible to travel by rail farther than Thurles which is fifty miles northeast of Cork.

Speculations differ as to whether Cork or Limerick will be chosen for the scene of the republicans' final stand.

RELFEST.—Republican and Free State forces clashed at Relfest, between Dunlur and Drogheda in County Louth. Twenty-two insurgents were captured.

A band of republicans entered Mayor Hamilton, County Leitrim and prepared to attack the Free Staters' barracks, when the curate asked them to stop, threatening to place himself in front and receive the first shots. His appeal was effective.

CONSERVATION IS TOPIC OF DEBATE AT MADISON MEET

Problems of Saving State's Wild Life and Preserving Timber Lands to be Discussed

MADISON, Wis.—Conservation of Wisconsin's natural resources is being considered Tuesday by a conference of state game wardens and delegates of the sixty rod and gun clubs with the state conservation commission.

Problems raised by the inroads being made into the fish and game resources of Wisconsin and the deforestation of its timber lands are before the delegates for consideration. They will be asked to give advice and suggestions concerning the building up of the game reserves, the more effective protection of Wisconsin forests and reforestation of waste lands to the awakening of public sentiment to the need of securing natural beauty spots for parks, and the creating of interest among school children, in conservation of natural resources.

President E. A. Birge of the University of Wisconsin, addressing the conference, spoke of the necessity and of the practical importance to the state of conservation both of its timber supplies and of its fish and game. Other speakers developed phases of the subject which are to be considered by the delegates during the meeting which will continue through tomorrow.

INDIAN, CONVICTED AS KIDNAPER, FLEES PRAIRIE JAIL CELL

John Falcon, Found Guilty Friday, Escapes in Night; to Have Been Sentenced Saturday

STOLE AN INDIAN MAID FROM RED BIRD TEEPEE AT DE SOTO

Pair Hidden Three Days in Hay Stack Until Found

JOHN FALCON, Winnebago Indian, found guilty by a jury in Prairie du Chien, last Friday, of kidnapping an Indian girl, Alice Red Bird of De Soto, escaped from the jail at Prairie du Chien some time Friday night and is still at large. He was to have been sentenced on Saturday morning by Judge Smalley.

Falcon had been living for some time in the vicinity of De Soto. He came to these parts from Oklahoma. With him came an Indian woman, with an auto and $2,000 cash, part of the returns from oil land leases of Indian lands in Oklahoma. Soon after Falcon arrived at De Soto he fell in love with the dusky and pretty Alice Red Bird. Alice is not yet 18 years old and her parents looked with disfavor on Falcon's suit.

Parental objections, however, only added just so much kindling to the love fire that was consuming Falcon. Whereat he decided to seize the beautiful Indian maid and carry her off, just as the braves of old for centuries before did. Accordingly Falcon seized Alice early last week as she was walking along a trail near the Red Bird teepee at De Soto and both she and Falcon disappeared. Three days later they were found hidden in the depths of a huge haystack not far from the Red Bird domicile. Falcon was hauled forth promptly and hustled to jail in Prairie du Chien and Alice was returned to the family teepee.

On Friday Falcon was given a jury trial and found guilty on a charge of kidnapping. He was to have been sentenced to state's prison by Judge Smalley the next morning, but when the morning came Falcon had "taken the air" the jail cell was empty. Just how Falcon escaped is somewhat of a mystery. He piled off a sliding in his cell, making an opening hardly wide enough for an average-sized human being to crawl through, and squirmed his way into an adjoining room. This room was locked but Falcon opened the door and then the rest was easy. Crawford county authorities have been searching for him but so far have not even a trace of the escaped prisoner.

Joseph Evans was Falcon's lawyer. District Attorney Alvin Peterson prosecuted the case.

CHICAGO, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—Increasing disorders, curtailment of train service and troops on duty at several trouble centers marked the progress of the rail strike Tuesday.

Fresh acts of violence occurred in California where at Roseville, fifteen miles from Sacramento, an employee of the Pacific Fruit express was shot while on duty at a car icing plant. Armed strike sympathizers were said to be occupying positions commanding the icing plant.

One man was in jail at Red Bluff, Calif., and another was out on $5,000 bond charged with kidnapping a boiler-maker of the Southern Pacific shops at Gerber.

At Newcastle, Calif., attempts were made to dynamite one of the largest water tanks on the Southern Pacific system.

Troops were on guard over railroad property at Bloomington and Clinton, Ill., Parsons, Kan., and New Franklin, Mo. Additional units of national guardsmen were under arms ready to entrain for trouble centers.

COAL MEN AND THE UNIONS WEIGHING HARDING PROPOSAL

Situation Marks Time While Both Sides Consider Plans for Truce in Strike

MEETING OF POLICY COMMITTEE OF MINE UNION COMES SATURDAY

Nonunion Operators Confer With Hoover on Prices

WASHINGTON.—The coal strike situation marked time Tuesday pending decision of operators and miners in the anthracite and unionized bituminous fields as to acceptance of President Harding's proposal for the fixing of a new wage scale by arbitration and the immediate resumption of work meantime at the wage of March 31 last. The miners' representatives were delaying reply to the proposal until a decision is reached by the general policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America summoned to meet here Saturday while the operators' group also withheld reply pending opportunity for deliberate discussion of the plan with their assistants.

Representatives of nonunion coal operators will be called together end of this week to consider means of dealing with smaller operators who are selling coal at prices in advance of the maximums recently reached by voluntary agreement. Secretary Hoover said Tuesday.

U. S. HAS PLAN FOR WITHDRAWING TROOPS IN SANTO DOMINGO

WASHINGTON.—The state department announced Tuesday that a tentative program for evacuation of Santo Domingo by American military forces has been agreed upon with a group of Dominican leaders who have been in Washington some months on their own initiative in conference with department officials. The program will be carried out, the statement said, "as soon as it can be ascertained whether it meets with the approval of a majority of the dominant people."

"Troops Patrol Bloomington

Bloomington, Ill., was one of the outstanding trouble centers but apprehension was somewhat abated by the presence of troops.

The soldiers were greeted with jeers as they patrolled the shops and yards of the Chicago & Alton. Spontaneous firing by snipers occurred early in the day. Machine guns were trained in the direction of the snipers, but the soldiers returned no shots.

The Bloomington situation was aggravated by the clerks, who announced they would refuse to work while troops were guarding the shops. Train servicemen also protested.

Officials of the striking shopcrafts renewed their protest against the military occupation, but promised they would do all that was possible to avert trouble.

The shopmen's strike and the resultant cancellation of trains has interrupted the senatorial campaign in Missouri. Candidates being compelled to revise their itineraries.

There were no indications of peace in the railroad world Tuesday.

ALLAN DAVEY TRIES OUT WITH KANSAS CITY CLUB AT MINNEAPOLIS SERIES

BY BOB DUNN
Allan Davey, former university football and baseball star and member of the La Crosse baseball club last year where he was a popular star, has been trying out in the American association league, according to word received by his friends.

Davey reported at Minneapolis last week to try out with the Kansas City club during the four game series with the Minneapolis squad.

It is understood, however, that Davey does not intend to go into organized ball as a permanent proposition. He has been playing with a Wisconsin league team so far this season.

Davey was quarterback on the varsity eleven for three years and twice defeated Chicago and once Minnesota by his ability to put drop kicks over the goal post. On the baseball field he held down the backstop position.

WISCONSIN ATHLETES TO ENJOY NEW SWIMMING TANK AND TANK ROOM AS RESULT OF FINE SHOWING THIS YEAR

BY BOB DUNN
Largely as a result of the fine showing made by Coach Steinbauer's swimming team in the Big ten during the past season, Wisconsin athletes will be able to enjoy a new swimming tank and tank room.

The improvement is being made to enable future Badger tank squads to equal the performance of the men this year. The Badger team turned in a clean record on dual meets which included victories over the following teams: M. A. C. twice, Minnesota, conference champions, Illinois and Northwestern.

Heretofore the tank has been out in the general shower and dressing room, making frequent interruptions to workouts unavoidable. The new tank, according to present plans, will occupy exactly the same position as the one in use at present but will not be so closely guarded by steel lockers, giving swimmers and audience more room.

This change will permit of a larger seating arrangement and will go a long way in enabling swimming to be made a major sport at Wisconsin.

COURT ORDER BARS UNION PICKETING AT MILWAUKEE SHOPS

Restraining Order Granted to Northwestern Railroad by Federal Judge

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The railroad unions were restrained from picketing the Chicago and Northwestern road's property here Monday by Judge Ferdinand A. Geiger in the United States district court. The picketing restraining order was a phase of a general restraining order issued in a temporary injunction to be argued out later as to its permanency on petition of the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

The paragraph relating to the picketing activities of the unions reads: "From engaging in the practice commonly known as picketing, that is to say from assembling or causing to be assembled numbers of men in sympathy with the said strike upon the or in proximity to the property of plaintiff where its present employees are required to work and from accosting employees as they go in and out of their respective places of work, and by threats, persuasion or otherwise attempting to persuade, intimidate or prevent said employees from entering upon their duties, or continuing therein, or from ordering, directing, aiding, or assisting in any way, or in any way abetting any person in committing the said unlawful acts."

"From congregating upon or maintaining at or near any of the yards, shops, depots, terminals, tracks, way-lands, road-beds or premises of the plaintiffs, any guards, pickets or persons to perform any act of guarding, patrolling or picketing any of such yards, depots, terminals, tracks, way-lands or premises."

IT IS GOD

Mr. Ekern

HERMAN L. EKERN will address the voters of La Crosse county at a meeting to be held in Riverside park tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Ekern is a candidate for the republican nomination for attorney general. His political career began as a member of the La Follette wing of the republican party. He was prominent as speaker of the assembly. He played an intelligent part in the passage of the early state reforms, and rendered conspicuous service as insurance commissioner. It was while holding this office that he had his historic encounter with then Governor Francis E. McGovern, in which the latter unsuccessfully attempted to oust Mr. Ekern from office.

The office of attorney general is an important one. Mr. Ekern is opposed for the nomination by John F. Baker, at present assistant to Attorney General Morgan. Mr. Ekern, who has been practicing law in Chicago for a number of years, and hence out of active Wisconsin politics, was drafted by Senator La Follette to make the run against Mr. Baker. The senator chose well, for Mr. Ekern is able and clean. Mr. Baker is a strong lawyer, and enjoys the advantage of his part in the present drive against Wisconsin's illegal monopolies which has signalized Mr. Morgan's administration of the office. He is in the saddle, in the midst of the fighting.

It is fortunate that Wisconsin has two such able and honorable sons as Mr. Ekern and Mr. Baker seeking the important office of attorney general. Each is entitled to a hearing. People want to know what is in their minds, to "size them up." No doubt Mr. Ekern's address here will be followed by one by Mr. Baker. Fair students of public questions, regardless of their "leanings," will attend these addresses. That is the only way in which safely to reach the close judgment that the public must draw when two well qualified candidates seek nomination for the same office.

The Tribune bespeaks for Mr. Ekern a general turnout and every just consideration when he appears in this city tomorrow night.

It Will Fail

ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE, who bull-moosed himself out of the republican party in 1912, defeated Senator New of Indiana for the republican senatorial nomination. Thereupon Senator New proposes to have all primary election laws repealed.

No doubt Senator New regards his own defeat in a primary as sufficient cause for doing away with the primary system, but it is improbable that the country at large will regard the nomination of former Senator Beveridge, over New, as a calamity. Rather, perhaps, a majority will feel that in this instance the primary has peculiarly justified itself.

Senator New now sees in the primary a "breeder of political corruption," and he adds:

"Under the convention system Senator Newberry would have been nominated for one-fifth or less what it cost him."

One wonders whether the congressional record shows that this remark was followed by: (Laughter).

Evidently Senator New is troubled about the high cost of seats in the senate. The public, on the other hand, is interested in making it difficult and expensive to purchase public office. It wants the transaction to be big and open enough to be noted.

But, in the main, money spent in the primaries is for educational purposes. It goes for literature, mailing, speaking places and transportation. In itself, it is legitimate, and it becomes illegitimate when spent in this way only when it passes certain bounds set by law as fixing reasonable limits to educational efforts.

But abuse of the use of money, even for educational campaigning, is becoming the practice. This is especially true where rich men get into politics. Newberry bidding against Henry Ford became a scandal because of the immense proportions which expenditures reached.

Of course there will always be avenues of political expense that will be hard to check.

Halls, traveling expenses and newspaper advertising, are instances. But a much closer account of campaign expenses can be required. Voluntary associations need closer supervision.

And this applies to a Pinchot as well as to a New, to a La Follette as well as to a Lenroot. The senatorial contest between Senator Lenroot and the late James Thompson was followed by threats of exposure from both sides. Nothing was done. It is improbable that either candidate knew how much was spent in his behalf, but that the total of the two exceeded the legal $10,000 few observers doubted.

We may well ask whether we have not fixed the cost of a state-wide campaign so low as to invite irregularities. In any event, wouldn't it be better to increase from $5,000 to $10,000 the amount a candidate may spend, and to absolutely forbid the spending of money by anyone but candidates? Until we do something of the kind, none will ever know what campaigns cost.

Meanwhile, Senator New will probably have to devise a new way to cut down the high cost of togas. The primary system will be here when the Indiana solon has "joined the innumerable caravan."

Four Years

WHAT are you most afraid of? Maybe your supreme dread is poverty. Or it may be a loaded gun. Or a certain disease. Frequently fear centers unexplainably on some simple thing that has little or nothing in it to excite terror. Brave Julius Caesar shook and chattered at lightning, it is said. He fled to the dark depths of caves when storms gathered. Alexander the Great was supposed to have been deathly afraid of cats. The sight of a harmless, purring pussy caused him to throw fits. Fear, of all kinds, is believed by scientists to be due to chemical abnormalities of the adrenal glands, small capsules attached to the kidneys. The adrenals of some people react peculiarly in certain institutions or in the presence of certain objects. The nervous system, emotions and even mental balance are upset by failure of the adrenals to harmonize with the encounter.

Another peculiarity of the adrenal glands is their close connection with violent emotions, such as fits of anger. The person with a bad temper has defective adrenal glands. Aroused by passion, the adrenals generate chemical substances known as hormones. These are shot into the blood. They make the heart beat rapidly, the hands shake, "a red film" come over the eyes. You have observed these symptoms in people overcome with rage.

Do the adrenal glands cause outbursts of temper? Or does temper upset the workings of the adrenals? Take your choice of the two. No matter which you select, you will find scientists ready to back you up. This much is certain—that the will power can be called into play as a brake on the emotions, especially anger. People who are subject to outbursts of temper should know that giving way to these emotional impulses literally tears their health to pieces. Anger wrecks the nerves, strains the heart, upsets the digestion. A fit of anger shortens life. A great deal is being written these days about the adrenals and other endocrine glands. It is important that people should not accept glandular theories as an alibi for personal deficiencies such as anger. That is the easy way, for it is human nature to seek an alibi as an excuse for individual defects. Meet your glands halfway. Keep the body and emotions under the control of will power, as much as possible. Barring geniuses, the glands constantly are trying to be normal. The mind has definite powers in assisting them to perform normally.

The Girl Who Was Elsewhere

BY LOUIS RAYBOLD

Ever since she could remember, Mary Louise had hated her environment; hated the gone-to-seed street she lived on; hated the dingy, paint-peeled house where her aunt took boarders; hated the dining room where three times a day she served scant portions to the joshing young men who formed her aunt's clientele.

But most of all she hated the kitchen, where for hours or, and she stood at the sink and labored at greasy dishes stacked interminably high. It was to mitigate all this that Mary Louise had invented her game—not a Polynesian game, whereby she consoled herself by thinking how much worse off she could have been. To be frank, she didn't believe she could have been worse off.

Her game was one of imagination, and distance. She played the way she was elsewhere. That was all. To her aunt, she appeared to be standing, a drab, untidy figure, above a steaming dishpan. But to herself, Mary Louise, she was sitting at a little round table beside a blue, blue sea, ordering watercress salad or peach ice cream. Or else she was on a hill top capped with daisies, dancing with arms outstretched to the four winds of heaven.

Mary could play this game with infinite variations, for every spare moment she could grasp, she read—the newspapers, stray books left around by the boarders, and, most worthwhile of all, every volume of her uncle's library which he had inherited in turn from an uncle who had actually appreciated books. So Mary Louise ran the gamut of English poets, modern novelists, and the Encyclopedia Britannica. And as a result, she could exult over her drudgery and sing, "I'm not here at all, I'm away, away, away!"

Yet it was this very saving expedient which nearly cost her her life and happiness.

To begin with, there came one day to the home an applicant for a room who was different from the usual run of boarders on the street—a young, clear-eyed man who said he was a doctor in training and wanted temporary accommodations near the hospital.

His first glimpse of Mary Louise occurred under circumstances that were equivocal. Young Dr. Stewart passed through the hall just in time to hear her refuse to go to the moving pictures with Sandy Briggs, a persistent tormenter of the girl, whom she could not stand.

"No, thanks," returned Mary Louise to his solicitation.

"Shouldn't you jump at the chance?" And Sandy's tone was a snarl. "Never going anywhere!"

"Would you?" said Mary Louise lightly. "Well, don't worry about me. While you're at a stuffy movie

I—I shall be dancing to heavenly music on a pavilion by the sea in the arms of a—of a prince!"

The doctor had only overheard the words, had not seen the whimsical face of the girl. Soberly he reflected that a dancing pavilion and the arms of the sort of man she would doubtless designate as a prince were no place for his landlady's niece. "I wonder her aunt allows it," he mused, and then forgot Mary Louise entirely.

The summer days arrived heat-baked. One morning over the steam-laid suds Mary fainted. One day, two days, three days in bed brought no improvement. Wain and still she lay and refused to eat, her eyes always on the window. Aunt Jennie, suddenly bereft of the faithful service of years, in something like a panic thought of young Dr. Stewart in her second floor front and summoned him.

And so Mary Louise was Dr. Stewart's very first case outside the hospital. "Brain fever," he called her illness. Said it was brought on by heat and overwork and, after he had heard her babble of blue seas and daisy hilltops and round tables where one ordered delectable foods, by "overstimulation of a remarkable imagination."

"She's always been that way," explained Aunt Jennie frostily. "Queer. It she was mopping up the kitchen floor she'd tell me she was riding her motor car down Fifth avenue and people were smiling and bowing. 'I'm not here at all,' she'd say."

Mary Louise would indeed, nor be there, so very, very frail were she, the threads that bound her tired spirit. And the young doctor, becoming desperate, realized that not only was it because she was his first real patient that he could not lose her, but because she had come to mean the whole world to him, and more.

"Mary Louise, Mary Louise!" he whispered brokenly one day when Aunt Jennie had left the room on some errand. "Stay with me, dear!"

And Mary Louise, lifting thin veiled lids from her wonderful eyes, had responded in sheer amazement. And had stayed.

Some weeks later, dining in a hotel veranda at Waikiki, outside Honolulu, where Dr. Stewart had gone to take over part of a fellow physician's practice grown too large for one man, he surveyed a faraway look in his young wife's blue eyes.

"Mary Louise," he demanded sternly, and gasped—her two hands. "Where are you now?"

Mary Louise smiled tenderly into his eyes. "I was thinking what a long, long way I had come to be here. Figuratively, I mean. As for where I am—I'm at a little round, round table, by a blue, blue sea, eating peach ice cream!" Then she sobered and held his hands tightly. "Oh, my dear, you have done the most wonderful thing a man can do for a woman—and that is, to make her dreams come true!"

HEAVY RAIN AND HAIL STORMS HIT MIDWEST STATES

Extensive Property Damage,
But Little Loss of Life, Follow in Wake of Storm

RAINS END DROUTH OF 43
DAYS DURATION IN ILLINOIS

Two Killed in Nebraska; General
Rainfall in Wisconsin

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—Middle western states were recovering Tuesday from the effects of hail, rain and windstorms which swept over Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas Monday, causing extensive property damage and a small loss of lives. In sections of these states where the precipitation was not excessive 12-ports said crops were benefited, in some places the rain breaking excessive drouths.

Heaviest damage, according to reports, occurred in South Dakota and Missouri.

A cloudburst at Kansas City late Monday night flooded the streets, washed automobiles away from the curbing and overburdened storm sewers.

Two persons were killed near Sargent, Neb., as a result of a heavy wind, rain and hailstorm Monday night. A 12-year-old boy was pinned under a wagon and drowned in a water filled ditch when the team he was driving became frightened during the hailstorm and ran away.

The storm ended a forty-three day drouth in Chicago and vicinity, but only slight damage resulted from the high wind which accompanied the downpour.

General rainfall was reported over Wisconsin and several lives were lost as a result of electrical storms. Crops generally were benefited by the rain.

Relief from the heat wave, which has been sweeping over the middle west, and local showers are predicted for this district Tuesday.

The long overdue downpour has worn itself out, according to officials of the United States weather bureau here. Local thunder showers may be expected Tuesday night and Wednesday morning over Indiana and Illinois but there is no promise of gathering storms in the northwest so there is small possibility of more rain in the Mississippi valley or Great Lakes region until the end of the week.

SCHOOL TAX CANNOT BE USED FOR OTHER PURPOSES IS RULING

MADISON, Wis.—Taxes collected for school purposes and not used cannot be diverted to other uses nor can they be returned to the taxpayers, F. E. Bump, assistant attorney general held Tuesday.

He advised John Callahan, superintendent of public instruction that the attempt of a school board in Taylor county to refund taxes to the taxpayers, "because of differences having arisen among the people or the school board" is so abhorrent to the Wisconsin school system and laws and to common sense as to need nothing more than mere statement to be rejected.

St. Louis was unable to gain on the Yanks who were idle. The Browns divided their third straight double-header with Boston, taking the first in 13 innings 5 to 4, and dropping the second 4 to 3. Incidentally five of the six games have been decided by a single run.

FLIP A COIN STATE ADVICE TO TWO WHO CLAIM SAME OFFICE

Assistant Attorney General Suggests Casting Lots to Solve Problem Without Court

MADISON, Wis.—"Flip a coin," is the suggestion of F. E. Bump, assistant attorney general, for settling a dispute in Oshkosh between two men, both of whom claim to be supervisors from the same district.

Bert M. Horton of Oshkosh, one of the two men, was elected supervisor from the Sixth ward, but when the city was redistricted he found himself legislated out of office, and the mayor or appointed a successor. He appealed to the district attorney.

When the district attorney forwarded the question of law to the attorney general Mr. Bump said that "It is my suggestion that the two men, in the interest of good citizenship solve the problem by casting lots, as they would do it tied in an election, with the understanding that the loser step aside and permit the winner to serve out the term."

Mr. Bump expressed the opinion that the appointment by the mayor was without authority of law and is a nullity, but suggested the casting of lots as a practical means of solving the problem without going to court.

Distribution Service and Agriculture

OVER 10 great agricultural states of the Middle West, the far-flung distribution system of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is rendering an essential service to 30 million people.

The immense value of this service may be visualized when it is known that more than one-half of the farms in the states served are equipped with automobiles. The Census Bureau report on this point is as follows:

Indiana	46.4%
Illinois	53.0%
Michigan	40.2%
Wisconsin	49.6%
Minnesota	57.1%
Iowa	73.1%
Missouri	31.0%
North Dakota	56.7%
South Dakota	69.4%
Kansas	62.0%
Average	53.8%
Average for U. S.	30.7%

In other words, the need for gasoline and lubricants, in percentage per farm, in the states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is nearly twice that of the United States as a whole.

On the farm, petroleum products are an absolute necessity. The farmer is preoccupied with his task—the mighty task of raising food for the world. He must have petroleum products when and where he needs them.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is prepared to give a dependable, always-on-the-job service which the exigencies of farming demand. 6600 tank wagons are in operation this summer of 1922. These tank wagons make deliveries to the farmer's door. When necessary they serve him in the field—at his work. They reach him at dependable intervals and serve him with dependable products. Only a vast, centrally administered organization could render this effective type of service.

Linens Tell Tales Women Can Avoid

Many women complain about finding streaks in freshly laundered clothes, especially in the folds, or the white clothes look gray. They blame the rinsing when the fault lies in the soap. This trouble is usually caused by the "flier" in the ordinary white or yellow bars.

"Flier" is not soap—just a cheap substitute without cleaning power, put in to make a little soap look like a full bar of soap. It gets rubbed into the fabric and doesn't rinse out. Then rot sets in and little holes and thin spots soon appear in early new towels, napkins, tablecloths and sheets. A nightdress splits on the shoulders or a petticoat in the seat.

Women call it "war" because as a rule the split comes first where the wear is greatest. These are the only bar of soap a woman has that there is "flier" in her soap. The bar looks all right and she is satisfied, unless she closely watches the results in her clothes.

Careful women are fast adopting the pure GREEN ARROW Laundry Soap containing—not "flier"—but olive oil which fabric makers use, and nothing else. The very fact that this large, green bar, made by The Palmolive Co., goes nearly twice as far as the ordinary, shows it is all cleaning power—all soap—instead of half "flier". Even a cheap bar of two more is the most economical soap you can buy because it saves nearly half the amount of bars you're accustomed to using—not to mention the hundreds of dollars it saves in clothes. Yes, hundreds! For isn't it a fact that our grandmothers made their own soap, and their linens, for example, lasted so long they were handed down to their children?

"All the king's horses and all the king's men" couldn't get you to go back to ordinary laundry soap after you've tried GREEN ARROW long enough to see the difference in the way your clothes last. You'll notice the very first trial that it doesn't make your hands red or rough.

Flowers for Dining Room

Flowers always make the dining room more cheerful. Why not make your own flower box and plant your own flowers? Take three boards of equal length; the length you desire, and two small ones for the ends. Tint this to match the dining room furniture and set it on the window sill with props, if necessary.

Hard to Beat

A real estate agent had been engaged to drive a prospective purchaser and his wife over a large estate in the west of England. He was a young man, and had adopted, or tried to adopt, some of the American methods. As the car wound along the lanes he pointed out the parks and meadows and woods of the estate, launching out in panegyrics. Finally he gazed up at the sun and, waving his arm, concluded, "And there's sunshine for you! There's a sun! Can you beat it!"

Felt--The Key To Roofing Strength

Knock out the keystone of an arch—and you have a ruin.

Break down, by time and exposure, the basic material in any asphalt shingle—and you have destroyed a roof.

Genuine Richardson Felt is the key material in Flex-a-Tile Giant Shingles. It "holds" the weather-proof qualities of this superior roofing because it is the perfected product of an organization that has specialized in the manufacture of fine felt since 1868.

This tough, durable fabric is thoroughly impregnated with scientifically tempered asphalt; then heavily coated with natural asphalt on both sides—the outer-coat to keep out heat, cold and moisture from above, the under-coat to give equally needed protection from beneath.

FLEX-A-TILE HOUSE TOPS

And Flex-a-Tile Giant Shingles look as well as they wear, because on their outer surface is an enameled coating of rich green slate (or red if you prefer) from the Richardson quarries in Georgia.

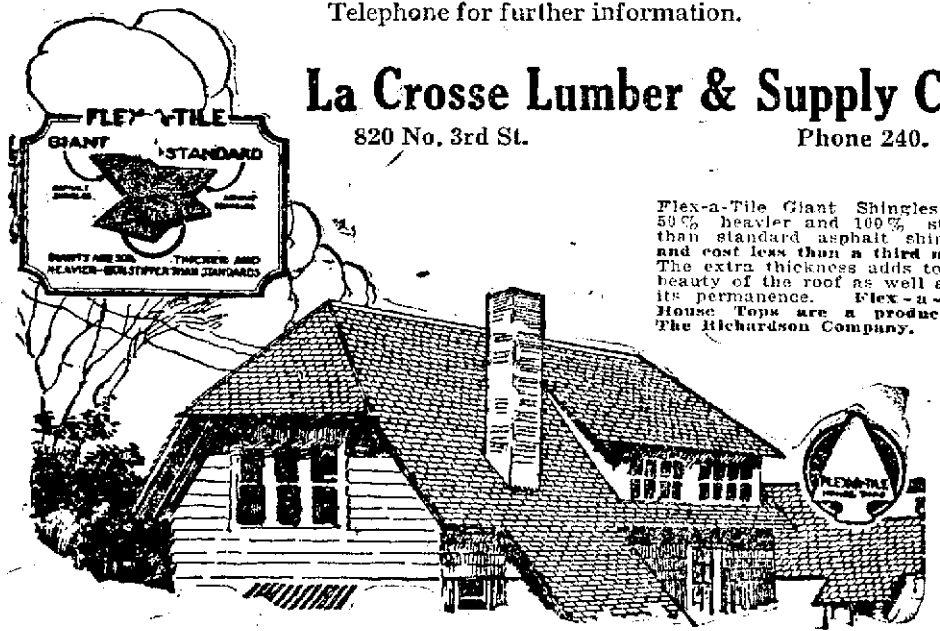

An important economy point is that this large-size, extra-weight single can be laid over an old roof as well as on new sheathing, thus saving the labor of tearing off old shingles, and affording the extra insulation of a double surface. In fact no other type of asphalt shingle gives such satisfactory results when used in this way.

Telephone for further information.

Flex-a-Tile Giant Shingles are 50% heavier and 100% stiffer than standard asphalt shingles and cost less than a third more. The extra thickness adds to the beauty of the roof as well as to its permanence. Flex-a-Tile House Tops are a product of The Richardson Company.

TRIBUNE'S FILM IS COMPLETED AND GOES TO CHICAGO

Great Interest Manifested in "Shooting" of Various Scenes in the Play

THOUSANDS OF CITIZENS SEE THE PHOTOPLAY MADE

Completed Film Will be Shown at the Majestic Theater

Seldom, if ever, has there been more genuine interest manifested than has been shown about the city the last two days during the filming of the Tribune photoplay, "A Romance of La Crosse." Wherever the director and his cast appeared, hundreds crowded around to see the work of turning inexperienced talent into something like the real thing. We have had pictures filmed in La Crosse before but never have we had a dyed in the wool director like Mr. Steiner to make the young folks step around. A vast crowd attended the "movie wedding" which was taken at the Salzer Memorial church. A number of darling little girls and boys with baskets of flowers preceded the wedding party from the church.

The La Crosse Rubber Mills Co. kindly assisted the director in getting a factory scene. A big light scene was staged at Fourth and Pearl. William Doerflinger was prevailed upon to jump in at the last minute and help out. We will now see if Mr. Doerflinger is as good a movie actor as a store keeper. Charles Sumner Van Auker, Jr., replaced Leo Miller, who is at home with the mumps.

The picture will be developed in Chicago tomorrow morning and a wire sent to the Tribune to notify us how the negatives came out. "A Romance of La Crosse" will be shown at the Majestic theater next Sunday July 16th, for five days and everyone in La Crosse will see it.

INCREASING DISORDER MARKS PROGRESS OF RAIL STRIKE

not in sufficient numbers to make a definite announcement possible.

W. E. Walters, chairman of the joint crafts East St. Louis, Ill., reported 2,300 men out on 19 roads there. The strikers are doing "lawful picketing," he said, under an injunction, adding that "all railroads have gunmen at their shops."

Attempts by roads in Denver to stampede the strikers back to work Monday, resulted in 22 deaths from the striking ranks, William Hannon of the executive committee of machinists reported. He said 3,000 men were out.

Many Join Sympathy Strike

The reports indicated that nearly 50,000 maintenance of way men and shop laborers went on sympathetic strike with the shopmen, according to Charles J. MacGowan, assistant to B. M. Jewell, head of the shop-crafts.

Kansas national guardsmen arrived in Herrington to guard the Rock Island shops there. State troops were also sent to New Franklin, Mo., after strikers had warned local officials of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas shops to cease all work.

The Santa Fe reported 300 maintenance of way men returned to work at Galesburg, Ill., the Erie announced it was sending 500 cars to outside repair shops and several railroads said they intended to ask further injunctions restraining the strikers from interfering with train operation.

Mails Interfered With

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The determination of the federal government to maintain transportation of mails and interstate commerce during the railwaymen's shopmen's strike failed to check Tuesday the streams of reports to the postoffice department of interference by strikers with mail trains.

S. H. Crisler, superintendent of rail way mail service at St. Louis, reported that 3,000 miles of railway mail service on the Wabash railway were not being operated. Mr. Crisler added that the fuel situation was serious.

The St. Louis-San Francisco railway company notified the department that it had no intention of withdrawing mail trains.

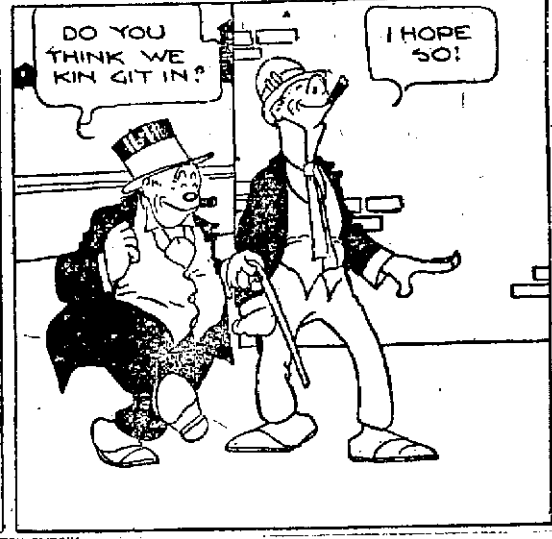

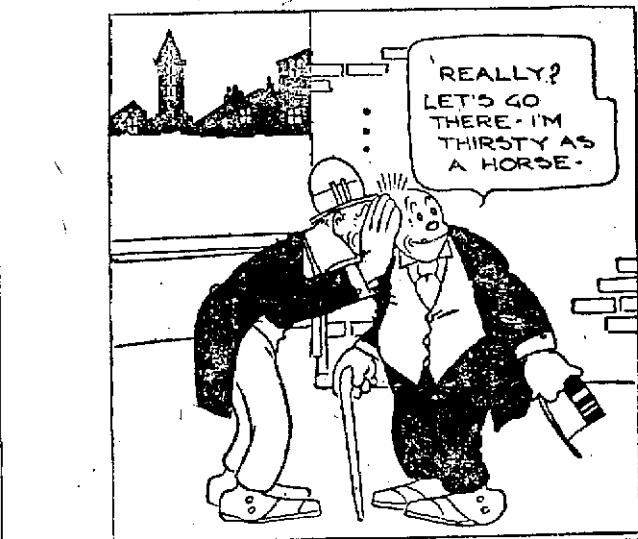

No further trouble was reported to the department from Springfield and other points in Missouri where strikers were alleged Monday to have interfered with the movement of mail matter and the situation at Kansas City was reported to be improved.

Postmaster General Work received a telegram from C. W. Galloway, vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company saying that the company was obliged to annul the operation of a train running between Flora, Ill., to Shawneetown, Ill., Monday morning and could not perform mail service between these points because strikers would not permit officers and employees to make up trains.

Inspectors on Job

The postmaster general said he had instructed the superintendent of the railway mail service in Washington to have divisional inspectors sent to all points where railroads had reported disorders by strikers and to make reports to Washington at once.

The postoffice department will not, it was said, recommend drastic action by federal or state forces at any point until inspectors have made certain of the facts as reported. It was intimated at the postoffice department that the postmaster general was prepared to lay before the president at today's cabinet meeting a complete report covering the entire situation. A conference between Postmaster General Work and Attorney General Daugherty may possibly be arranged later if it is found that the activities of striking railway workers are seriously menacing the railway mail service.

Postmaster General Work late Tuesday directed all postmasters to report to their local superintendents of the railway mail service any interference in the movement of the mails.

Clerks in East to Strike

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—A strike of railway clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees on the Norfolk & Western railroad has been sanctioned by Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald, according to I. D. Mumby, assistant to Fitzgerald, at the headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks here Tuesday.

Signalmen Won't Strike

CHICAGO, Ill.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen will not strike for the present, at least, according to a statement issued Tuesday morning by D. W. Helt, president of the organization. The decision was arrived at after a conference between the executive board of the union and the railroad labor board.

Denies Heavy Firing

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—Colonel Culbertson, in command of state troops, here, at 10:30 o'clock denied that more than four shots were fired Monday night. Someone, he said, fired at a sentry with a shotgun and the sentry fired three times in the direction of the flash.

Seven citizens living near the shops, however, telegraphed Governor Small that approximately 200 shots were fired in the direction of their homes and they asked that the militia be restrained from further shooting.

Despite Colonel Culbertson's report, a newspaperman who spent the night in the shops and heard the shooting, said he was told by officers on duty there that 300 shots had been fired.

Colonel Culbertson denied the report of the men in the shops that automatic rifles had been used. The colonel's headquarters are at the union depot about a mile and a half from the scene of the trouble.

Protest Shooting by Troops

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Sheriff Jacob Morrison of McLean county called Adjutant General C. E. Black at 11:20 o'clock Tuesday morning to protest against the alleged shooting by the state troops sent in to protect the Chicago & Alton shops and workmen at Bloomington.

"They are hitting the houses," the sheriff complained.

General Black said he had asked the sheriff what he knew about shots fired and the sheriff replied that the "reports were from the people in the vicinity of the shops."

It was pointed out that the state troops have been sent to Bloomington to protect workers in the shops and have no authority to exceed that purpose, or to establish martial law and that the sheriff is still the legally constituted law officer of the county.

General Black said that no further troops have been ordered to Bloomington but that several companies are held in readiness, if needed.

The strikers and members of other unions are planning a mass meeting in Oneil Park northwest of the shops early this afternoon to adopt resolutions demanding that the troops be removed.

Call Out Riot Squad

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Violence, as a reaction to the injunction order of the federal court here prohibiting the striking shopcrafts from picketing on or near the Chicago & Northwestern road right of way, asserted itself Monday night and Tuesday morning, with the result that three men were injured in two disturbances and one riot call was sounded for the police.

Two railroad guards were set upon by a band of twelve men, armed with sticks, stones and clubs, according to George Lawrence, chief of the Chicago & Northwestern road's special police, at 6 a. m. Tuesday near Clinton and Florida streets, a few blocks from the Alton station. The guards were found in a semi-conscious condition when motorcycle police and ambulances arrived.

AND THAT'S HOW IT'S DONE!

"Here is another list of medal recommendations, and I've worn out my blue pencil! What in the world shall I do?" the great official exclaimed in despair.

"I have sharpened another blue pencil for you, sir," the faithful secretary responded promptly.

"You are wonderful; you think of everything!" the great official declared, seizing the new pencil eagerly. "What would I do without you? But your services to your country shall not go unrewarded," he added, his face lighting up with a happy thought, and striking out the first name on the list before him, he wrote in its place that of the faithful clerk.

MUNICIPAL AUTO CAMPS

MAP OF MUNICIPAL AUTO CAMPS

BY LEON A. DICKINSON
(Manager Touring and Transportation Bureau, American Automobile Association.)

One of the most remarkable outgrowths of the new fad of motor-camping lies in the establishment of a vast number of municipal and semi-private camping grounds in all sections of the country for the comfort and convenience of the rapidly increasing army of motor campers.

When it became evident that this new form of outdoor recreation was destined to attain a degree of importance not dreamed of a few years ago, some of the more progressive communities in the western states saw the commercial possibilities involved and determined to try for their share of the tourists' trade by establishing ready-made camping grounds as near as possible to the business center of the town in each case.

Many of these municipal camp sites were sponsored by the local chambers of commerce, though occasionally the movement has its inception in automobile clubs, and even, in some cases, they were inaugurated by the town authorities themselves.

The first camps established naturally were somewhat crude and deficient in everything but the fundamentals of successful camping, such as water, firewood and some form of outdoor oven or grate.

Development of Rivalry

As the number of camping motorists increased, however, the competition between various municipalities became much more keen, with the result that many additional conveniences were added.

First one town and then another added rest houses and comfort stations to their camp sites, while others went still further and installed such things as completely equipped kitchens, laundries with electric washing machines and irons, tent floors, electric lights, gas for cooking and lighting, filling stations, supply stores, and even free touring information bureaus.

Recently two independent investigations were made to determine the number and distribution of these municipal camping grounds, one of them by the American Automobile Association. The composite results of these inquiries show that there are in the country today 1850 of these prepared camp sites, and new ones are being established so rapidly that it is safe to predict that the grand total will pass the 2,000 mark before the 1922 touring season is over.

An analysis of the distribution of these camp grounds shows California leading all the states, with a grand total of 168. Next comes Illinois with 129, closely followed by Iowa and Kansas with 110 and 105 camp sites respectively.

Broadly speaking, the middle west excels in this new feature, because practically every state in this group contains at least 50 of these camp grounds, and nine of them have 5 or more.

As yet the movement has made very little headway in the east, most of the states in this latter group having less than ten established camping places, while at least three of them, Rhode Island, Maryland and Delaware, have none at all. The Rocky Mountain states are likewise deficient as compared with the relatively large number in the middle west and along the Pacific coast, but even here the showing is appreciably better than in the Atlantic states from Maine to Florida.

RINGLING BROTHERS BIG CIRCUS COMES HERE ON AUGUST 2

First Advertising Car Arrives in the City and Posters are Being Put up

Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus is coming. Advertising car No. 1 arrived in the city today with a corps of 35 men in charge of George Goodheart, well known outdoor publicity specialist.

W. L. Wilken, the first arrival of the press agents, is calling on the newspapers, and once again the glad tidings are being spread broadcast telling of the coming of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus. The circus it is announced, will positively be exhibited here on Wednesday, August 2.

It is promised that nothing to compare with the present Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey performance has ever before been seen under canvas.

Europe has contributed its best features. More than 200 marvelously trained Hungarian stallions, groups of performing wild animals, including African lions, the largest Bengal tigers ever exhibited in America, black panthers, trained polar bears and educated leopards are among the new features. Thirty-two distinct acts were imported for this year's show, and each is a feature in itself. Rudolph Matthies, Mable Stark, Olga Celeste, Christian Schroder and other enter steel-barred arenas and twice daily defy death at the claws and teeth of jungle beasts. For the lovers of horse-flesh, the circus is a continued inspiration and delight. Famous trainers and riders such as Adolph Hess, Manuel Herzog, the Reifcraths, Mme. Bradne, the Rooney-Moers troupe, the Torvelles, the Tarneffs, the Ernestos, the Sevillas, Joe Bagonghi, Rudolph Meyer, Miss Lillian Compton and others exhibit the finest trained horses ever seen in America.

The aerial and acrobatic section of the program is not slighted, for dainty Lillian Leitzel, who turns somersaults from the end of a rope while suspended far above the heads of spectators; the Clarkonians, the Siegrist-Silbon troupe, the Degoes, Sie Tahar troupe, head balancers from Spain, aerialists from Italy, tumblers from Arabia head a list that completely fills the three rings and elevated stages, together with the myriad of mid-air contrivances. Trained dogs, bears that skate, educated geese and pigeons; battalions of elephants, some with pretty girl trainers; seal acrobats and high school pigs never fail to delight the youngsters.

The clown contingent is larger than ever before, with new stunts, quips and jests. In the menagerie department is a baby hippo, the first born in captivity; litters of young lions and tiger whelps; in all the finest display under the Ringling banner.

"Facing the Music"

The proverbial phrase, "to face the music," is probably derived from the stage, where it was used by actors in the green-room when preparing to go on the boards.

Origin of the Passion Play

The Passion Play at Oberammergau owes its inception to the gratitude of the peasants for the cessation of the plague of 1633.

THE "DOCTOR" WINE

How many have heard of the famous Moselle wine for invalids, called the "doctor?" It got its name about six hundred years ago from Beemund, archbishop of Treves, who was ill of a fever and given up by the doctors. Then into his castle one day marched a sturdy farmer with a little cask of wine on his shoulder from his three-cornered vineyard at Berncastel. "Whoso drinks of this wine must straightway be well of fever," he announced, and the sick man begged for a drink of it. Liked it, took more and got well. "I will never be without that best doctor in mine old age," said the thankful archbishop, and left order that 20 casks of that useful wine should go into his cellar every year afterward, for sick purposes.—Galesville Republican.

A CHRONIC KICKER

Senator Reed Smoot said at a luncheon in Salt Lake City: "You can never please the ultra-radicals, the communists, bolsheviks, and people of that sort. Legislate as you will in their behalf, they will always be dissatisfied."

"It's like the farmer. His pastor said to him one day:

"Well, Horace, you're a great growler and complainer, but you certainly can't grow and complain this year about your potato crop. Why, man, they tell me that both in quantity and quality it's the finest potato crop in the state of Utah."

"Oh, yes," muttered the farmer, "that's all right as far as it goes, doctor, but what am I gona' do to git the bad potatoes to feed me hogs?"—Detroit Free Press.

HORNSBY CLOUTS HOME RUN NO. 22

Homer With Two on Against Robins Enables St. Louis to Win Seventh

EIGHTH STRAIGHT FOR CUBS; BEAT BRAVES, 4-0

Reds Take Slugging Bee from Phils, 11 to 7

ST. LOUIS.—Roger Hornsby's home run, his twenty-second of the season, with Mack and Smith on base in the seventh inning, gave the Cardinals a 4 to 1 victory over Brooklyn here on Monday. Hornsby's hit was his only one of the game, was made off Schriver, a young right hander. The victory was the seventh straight for St. Louis. It was the fifth conquest in the series over Brooklyn. Pfeffer, pitching for the Cardinals, allowed eleven hits, but kept them well scattered. Two double plays helped him out of trouble in the early innings. Score: Cardinals.....000 000 001—1 St. Louis.....000 000 40—4 Batteries—Schriver, Decatur and DeBerry; Pfeffer and Ainsmith.

Cubs, 4; Braves, 0. CHICAGO.—Chicago made a clean sweep of the series with Boston on Monday by taking the final game of the series, 4 to 0, making it eight straight. Two passes issued by Marghera, combined with opportune hitting, including a double by Krug, which cleared the bases, won the game for the locals in the first inning. Jones pitched in fine form and was given perfect support. Score: Boston.....000 000 000—0 Chicago.....400 000 00—4 Batteries—Marghera, Ellingm, McNamara and Gibson; Jones and O'Farrell.

Reds, 11; Phils, 7. CINCINNATI.—The Reds made it four out of five from Philadelphia by winning the final game of the series on Monday, 11 to 7. It was a slugfest, each team getting thirteen hits. The Reds pounded Ring out of the box in the first two innings, but the Phillies found Keck in the fifth and took the lead. Pinto, who had relieved Ring, was wild and had to be removed in the last half of the fifth. Singleton, who finished the game, was hit fairly and received good support. Gillespie pitched strongly for the Reds in the last four innings. The batting and fielding of Fonseca was a feature. Score: Cincinnati.....110 042 00—11 Philadelphia.....000 151 000—7 Batteries—Ring, Pinto, Singleton and Peters; Withrow; Keck, Gillespie and Wingo.

Giants, 10-4; Pirates, 2-5. FORBES FIELD, PITTSBURGH.—New York defeated Pittsburgh by the overwhelming score of 10 to 2 in the first game of Monday's double header, but lost the second game, 5 to 4. In the first game the Giants staged batting rallies in almost every inning against Hamilton, Glazner and Hollingsworth, while Neff was steady throughout. Carey's home run went over the left field wall at the same spot as his homer off the same pitcher went over on Friday. Mense's homer was on a hard hit to right field that bounced over the low fence near the scoreboard.

The second game was much better played than the first, the locals putting up a stiff game after New York had taken a three run lead. Pittsburgh tied the score in the eighth inning on a pass to Carey, Barnhart's triple and Eust single. In the ninth, after Gooch and Carlson had singled, Carey drove home over with the winning run by slugging through the box. Score: First game—New York.....340 132 303—10 Pittsburgh.....000 110 000—2 Batteries—Neff and Snyder; Gaston; Hollingsworth, Hamilton, Glazner and Leonard; Mattox.

Second game—New York.....010 201 000—4 Pittsburgh.....000 011 021—5 Batteries—Ryan and Smith; Carlson and Gooch.

EX-CHAMPION LYNCH "COMES BACK"; BUFF BESTED IN BATTLE

NE YORK.—Joe Lynch, cool and calculating, held out a good left arm Monday night and permitted Johnny Buff to knock off his own crown—the bantamweight championship of the world.

In the beginning Lynch ripped a cut on Buff's lower lip and then on it was the challenger's fight. It was apparent in the early rounds when Buff found himself unable to pass that long left arm to land the devastating short blows to the ribs, that it was one of those rare occasions where an ex-champion "comes back."

SECOND SECTION OF PLAYERS START QUALIFYING ROUNDS AT SKOKIE COUNTRY CLUB TODAY

SKOKIE COUNTRY CLUB, GLEN COE, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—The second section of players Tuesday started their 36-hole trudge around the Skokie in the qualifying rounds of the national open golf tournament to decide which of their number will earn an opportunity to play in the finals Thursday and Friday. While 108 players started, it was fore-ordained that little more than one-fourth of the stars—Britons, Scots, Americans—would have scores sufficiently low to place them in the championship 72-hole contest. The low twenty-four automatically qualified and ties for twenty-fourth were expected to increase the number of three or four.

Tomorrow the third and final section of the field of 325 shooters will make the preliminary pilgrimage. Yesterday's golf was probably the greatest ever seen in a qualifying round from many standpoints. Not only did Jack Hutchinson set a new tournament record with his 135 for thirty-six holes—five under par.

RAIN SHATTERS HOPES OF RECORD BREAKING SCORES

OMAHA, Neb.—By the Associated Press.—Hopes of record-breaking scores in the second day of the qualifying rounds in the Trans-Mississippi Golf tournament were literally washed away Monday night by a slow course Tuesday morning as soft as thawing ground.

This helped the chances of Rudolph Knepper, Sioux City, Ia., to emerge Tuesday the medalist. He shot a 71 Monday and had a margin of three strokes as he left the first tee Tuesday morning.

At the annual banquet Tuesday night the site for the 23rd meeting will probably be decided upon. The medal for the low score will be delivered and the delivery of the Brock cup will be made.

BASEBALL BRIEFS

CHICAGO, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—The rampaging St. Louis Cardinals were a half game nearer the league leading Giants today as a result of another win over the Brooklyn Dodgers 4 to 1.

The Giants after coming close to a league record by pummeling three Pittsburgh twirlers for 28 hits and a 19-2 victory in the first game, lost a 5-4 decision to the Pirates in the second contest.

The Chicago Cubs took their fifth straight from Boston 4 to 0 and strengthened their hold on third place as Brooklyn continued its slump.

Two records almost unique in the annals of the game marked Detroit's 6 to 2 triumph over Washington. Each of the ten Tigers in the lineup registered one hit, while the Washington outfield scored only a single out. Shanks making the lone catch.

Harris twirled the Athletics to victory over the White Sox 5 to 2 while Cincinnati won a slugfest match from the Phillies, 11 to 7.

MARITAL WOES OF WILLIAM BECKER A PUZZLE TO COURT

Judge Brindley Decides Husband Must Provide Home for Wife; Gets Month to do it in County Judge Brindley and F. E. Withrow were confronted with a problem in domestic relations in county court Monday afternoon that called for a decision, a la Solomon. A husband was being examined on a charge of abandoning and failing to support his wife and infant child. The husband said he loved his wife and was willing to live with her and support her—but he had no money. The wife did not appear to be unwilling to live with her husband but she declared she needed money to buy food and clothing for herself and baby.

William Becker was the husband and Mr. Withrow was his attorney. Becker has been working at the Northwestern freight house. He told the court he has about $29 wages coming to him; apparently that is all the money he has to his name. His wife, Esther, is living with her parents in Onalaska. Becker asserted, under questioning by Mr. Withrow, that he loved his wife and was willing to live with her but he couldn't do anything much in the way of housekeeping because he had no money.

Judge Brindley, after a few minutes' pondering, adjourned the case for a month, released Becker on his own recognizance and made him promise to live with and support his family. "He ought to be by himself," said Mr. Withrow. The court agreed in this and Becker was told to make preparations to get away from both families and take his wife and child to some house or rooms where he would be independent of all relations. "There is no use putting a man like this in jail," said the court. "Both seem to be willing to live together. Becker has no money. He can't earn any money in jail. He had better get out and hustle for a livelihood."

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With

If you want to keep your child's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonsful of Multisided in a cup of glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, shiny and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisided.

GEORGIA WOMEN TO ASK EQUAL RIGHTS LAW OF GOVERNOR

Delegation Calls on Executive to Urge Passage of Law Similar to Wisconsin Act

ATLANTA, Ga.—Miss Lavina Egan of Washington, D. C., member of the Council of the National Woman's Party, headed a delegation of Atlanta women and others who planned to call on Governor Hardwick Tuesday in the interest of an equal rights bill which they hope to get through the present session of Georgia legislature.

Governor Hardwick has already announced his intention of recommending passage of equal rights legislation at this session, and a text of the law in operation in Wisconsin and recommendations from Governor J. J. Blaine and other officials of that state were among the phases of the matter to be put before Mr. Hardwick.

The Wisconsin law gives women the same legal and civil rights as men. Passage of a similar law is sought in Georgia.

MAJESTIC TONIGHT
Unique in its array of talent, "The Beauty Shop," a Co-Com, old-time-Paramount screen comedy, closes its engagement tonight at the Majestic theater. For sheer good humor, merriment, amusing complications and unflagging interest "The Beauty Shop" most assuredly is pre-eminent.

Doty Hobart skillfully translated into picture terms the original musical comedy by Clanning Pollock and Harold Wolf. The artists in the cast are: Raymond Hitchcock, who is featured; Billy B. Van, James J. Corbett, Louise Fazenda, the Fairbanks Twins, Diana Allen, Montagu Love and Laurence Wheat.

"SEVILLIANA" DANCE IN "THE SPANISH JADE"

Immediately upon their arrival in Seville with the John S. Robertson company for the filming of the Paramount picture, "The Spanish Jade," which is coming to the Majestic theater Wednesday for two days, Evelyn Brent and David Powell began devoting an hour every day to mastering the steps of a "Sevilliana" to their own accompaniment with the castanets. This dance is one of the incidents of the big "fiesta" scene in the picture and which was staged in the village of Carmona.

Paramount picture, "The Ordeal," which comes to the theater today for a stay of two days.

Mr. Nagel's role is that of a young doctor, and it is said to be a remarkably true to life character as its creator was himself a doctor. For before he became an author, W. Somerset Maugham was a graduate physician in Great Britain. Mr. Maugham has not "doctored" for some years as he has entirely given up the little black bag and stethoscope in favor of the typewriter, a medium with which he has written many remarkably successful plays and novels.

"FOURTEENTH LOVER" VIOLA DANA'S BEST

Nobody on the screen can play a certain type of role better than little Viola Dana, the Metro-star. Given her proper opportunity as a reckless, devil-may-care, vicious flapper, eager to seize life as a dazzling adventure, bubblingly intent upon extracting the quintessence of excitement from it, yet tenderly appreciative of a real human value, and Viola Dana romps through the part with a joyous abandon that brooks of no rivalry. She adds just the right touch of sentiment that comes with it a little heart-tug, she is never sentimental, never sugary. There is too much thrilling gaiety in her personality for that.

Not often does she have a role that gives her such a dazzling opportunity

Miss Dana appears as a wealthy girl with thirteen wealthy suitors. Her "fourteenth lover" is the family gardener, a young college boy, and their romance affords great suspenseful pleasure.

CASINO TODAY

Eugene Burr, who plays the role of John Cayser in the story, is about the villainest villain that ever flickered across the silver sheet.

Burr makes life miserable for Roy Stewart and Louise Lovely, co-stars of "Life's Greatest Question," at the Casino, until he is finally vanquished in a hard hand-to-hand struggle with Stewart. The critics had seen many villains, and they were wise in the ways of screen villains. But Burr without in the least exaggerating or burlesquing his part, convinced them that most of the "heavies" now before the public could learn a lot about the business of "villaining."

CHEESE REGULATIONS OF MARKETING BOARD ATTACKED BY MORGAN

State's Reputation in Danger of Being Destroyed Through Bureau's Orders, He Says

URGES WITHDRAWAL OF RULES WHICH HAMPER PRODUCERS

Not Necessary to Have Cheese Inspected Twice

SPONGER, Wis.—The reputation of Wisconsin cheese which has attained a leading place in this country through years of development is in danger of being destroyed by the grading and labeling order promulgated this year by the state department of markets, Attorney General William J. Morgan declared in a campaign address here Tuesday. The attorney general is opening the second week of his campaign for nomination of the republican candidate for governor.

"I have told the people of Wisconsin that I will encourage and assist in the co-operative marketing of farm and dairy products, and that I want to see vexatious regulations which hamper marketing and endanger the reputation of Wisconsin products withdrawn," Mr. Morgan said. "This cheese order, I believe, imperils the state's cheese industry and Wisconsin's newest commission, established last year, is responsible for it." The candidate said that it did not seem to him either "necessary" or economical to have cheese inspected by two different departments of the state government.

"I am willing," Mr. Morgan declared, "to leave the care of our cheese in the hands of J. Q. Emery, the Wisconsin dairy and food commissioner, who has proved himself a faithful and zealous public servant without calling in the marketing commission to assist in diagnosing the case."

"The grades established by the department of markets are determined," Mr. Morgan said, "chiefly by color, texture and flavor. All these qualities are relative, especially flavor, and it will be readily understood that with over 2,300 cheese factories in the state a sizeable army of licensed graders is necessary and close uniformity of grading is impossible. It is plain that the sale of a sour cheese under a Wisconsin label hurts the reputation of the industry."

"This grading regulation takes no account of the Wisconsin cheese moisture law and the licensed graders of the market commission may brand a cheese 'Wisconsin Fancy' that has a higher moisture content than is lawful. The result is apt to be that some day a dairy and food commissioner deputy will arrest the maker of a cheese branded 'Wisconsin Fancy' because it violated the moisture law. It would be rather ridiculous to have this cheese offered in a criminal case and used to convict the maker for violation of the moisture law."

HAREM ATTENDANTS IN CONSTANTINOPLE GO OUT ON STRIKE

CONSTANTINOPLE.—By The Associated Press.—Constantinople harem attendants have gone on a strike for more money and shorter hours. Many of the capital's finest harems have been left unguarded, and their owners are trying desperately to find suitable substitutes for the strikers. Numbers of Russian refugees have volunteered their services, but it was found they were not fitted for the job.

The strikers insist that their "24-hour day" and the unceasing vigil they are required to keep on the women of the harems justify better remuneration, especially during the present hard times.

GENERAL HOLWAY ORDERS RIGID ENFORCEMENT OF DRY LAWS AT WISCONSIN GUARD ENCAMPMENTS

MADISON, Wis.—Rigid enforcement of the prohibition laws by officers and enlisted men during the encampments of the Wisconsin national guard is ordered by Adjutant General Orlando Holway in his instructions sent to guard units Tuesday.

"The field camps now approaching in which some 7,000 young Wisconsin men will be assembled are bound to attract the peddling of bootlegger, irresponsible, without care for the vile rawness of this poisonous product, eager only for his own profit," Adjutant General Holway said. "The guard, assembled as such, may not with honor disobey or disregard the law nor afford the spectacle of soldiers crazed and inflamed by poisonous drink."

"To lessen and if possible, to avoid any such unhappy contingency," the adjutant general added, "no intoxicating liquor will be brought to camp, except such as is provided by the state surgeon for medicinal use in the camp hospital. Officers in command of organizations are especially charged to this end."

with thorough inspection before entering for camp, and all officers, whether or not in charge of units, will themselves be governed by the same rule.

"The national guard officer, being in authority, can fully exercise it chiefly through example and precept, and precept is worth little if example is contrary. There can, in guard service, be but one rule applicable alike to officer and enlisted man, with penalty more swift and severe for those in authority who transgress."

"It is further enjoined upon every officer and enlisted man as duty under orders that he shall use his utmost effort to procure the apprehension of any person illegally selling or distributing intoxicating liquor to soldiers or attempting to do so, within or outside the confines of the military reservation."

The Safe Place
French war statistics show that 29 per cent of infantry officers were killed while only 21 per cent of officers in the aviation corps lost their lives during the world war. It must be that the higher one goes in case of a scrap the safer he is.—Fond du Lac Reporter.

Shall Clothing Prices Go Up Again?

Last year American wool growers produced 275 million pounds of wool, valued at 65 million dollars.

To protect this industry the Tariff Bill now before the Senate proposes an import tax on raw wool of 33 cents a pound on the scoured content. The added cost to the American public will be between 350 and 400 million dollars.

Your share of this enormous amount of money will be from $3 to $5 on every suit or overcoat you buy.

It would be a hardship if existing conditions made this high tariff necessary, but the facts are the tariff is higher than necessary. Of the 350 million dollars, the total cost, only about 45 million dollars will go to the wool industry in "protection."

Write your Congressman and Senator; let them know that you are anxious to see living costs go down instead of up. Write or wire them today!
